176 T2 – PT100 Two Channel Logger Overview

The Testo 176 T2 PT100 Two Channel Logger is particularly suitable for areas / applications which require dual temperature measurements. The data logger can accommodate two Pt100 probes of your choice, a range of probes compatible with the 176 T2 are also available. It is therefore possible to safely store temperature values from different measuring locations and, if required, compare them on site on the logger display.

Features

- Dual measurements (2 external)
- Ability to record data from 1 second up to 24 hours
- Large memory, 2 Million Readings
- Data transfer possible using the USB port or SD card (Optional)